For the whole month of October Danny has been not having to worry about combing his hair due to his staff taking him to get a really short haircut. Danny has been doing well each morning to remember to brush his teeth and wash his face and hands properly. He still doesn't allow his staff to help him shave his face and will only allow his father to help him shave when Danny is ready to shave. He will shower each morning so he will have a clean smell and have on clean clothes and coordinating colors and will always make sure to fasten his belt and tie shoes and will wear weather appropriate clothes with the reminders from job coach.

REVIEW OF GENERAL SUPERVISION REQUIREMENTS

1. Job Coaches will provide supervision and support to their consumers during day program service hours. Supervision means that you can see them or quickly get to them to offer instruction support (assistance) and/or keep them safe.
2. Consumers may briefly leave the Job Coach's visual line of sight, to use the restroom, explore a store aisle, work in a different area of a jobsite, or make a purchase on their own. Each Consumer's Individual Training Plan offers guidelines on how much autonomy they can safely handle. Some capable individuals can handle doing many things unsupervised; others must be kept by your side as much as possible. Consumers will be instructed to discuss with their Job Coach where they will be, how long they will be "out of sight", and when and where they will rejoin the group. They will be thanked for informing the Job Coach and congratulated for following through on what they said they must do.
3. Job Coaches agree that they are "on duty" during lunch and two 10-minute rest periods, and are paid for that period of time. Job Coaches are encouraged to rest, eat and use the restroom whenever consumers do so.
4. Consumers are not to be left in a parked car while the Job Coach enters a building. The exception may be at pick-ups/drop-offs, when a Consumer may be safer staying seated for several minutes while the Job Coach escorts other Consumers to/from the car. Lower several car windows during warm weather to ensure adequate ventilation is maintained in the cabin when the engine is off. Never leave your car keys in the ignition, or leave the car without the parking brake on while a Consumer sits in your parked car.
5. Job Coaches will be close by whenever a Consumer uses a public restroom. They can be either inside the restroom, or standing outside by the door. Job Coaches should make themselves aware of who else is inside the restroom. Whenever possible, encourage the Consumer to wait until community members or children have finished using the restroom before going in themselves. If the Coach must use the restroom while the Consumer's wait, the Job Coach should ensure that they are seated comfortably nearby, with directions to remain seated and wait for the Job Coach's return. Individuals who are at high risk of wandering off, elopement or bothering others will be asked to wait inside the restroom with the Job Coach.
6. Job Coaches will discuss with the Program Director any consumers they have regarding supervision issues, including Consumer requests for more autonomy.

I have read the above requirements and will supervise my Consumers.
